

Abstract

A conjugate of a tissue non-specific alkaline phosphatase (tns-AP) and dextran which can be obtained by reacting unglycosylated tns-AP with activated dextran by incubation in aqueous solution, stopping the reaction and isolating the conjugate
5 from the solution. The conjugate obtained in this manner is suitable as a standard for the determination of alkaline phosphatase.